Agenda

1. IMTG BoF Preview - Alissa Cooper, Guest

Alissa Cooper, discussed International Meeting Arrangements (IMTG) BoF. A meeting is scheduled for 6pm today to speak with Allon Bar (Ranking Digital Rights) and Motoko Aizawa (Institute for Human Rights and Business). RDR is an organization that ranks companies according to their human rights practices. It’s not the best fit for the IETF, but he’s going to provide background. He’ll talk about the UN framework that exists, and about his own project.

Motoko Aizawa, has done actual work with organizations around this topic of human rights. She will provide examples of companies that have done this. Also she worked with ICANN, so it will probably be more relevant to this community. It’s not clear that the IETF community wants to think about this topic but, if they do, there is expertise out there that we can fall back on.

Also, we won’t talk about visas at all, because it doesn’t seem to fit.

John Levine pointed out that there are 30 articles in the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights and we keep talking about the same three.

Alissa explained that this is part of the idea behind this session. Though there are clearly some articles that are more relevant than others to the actual subset of the IETF. This particular session is not meant to tell the IETF what to do: it’s just to provide information on what’s out there.

Unfortunately, Alissa was unable to catch up with the contact in India regarding Visas. If the IAOC has any interest in exploring this area, working with local experts in India and China would be the path to take. There are questions we can ask. Are there services out there? What would it look like if an organization wanted to sign up for a bulk discount?

2. Minutes & Meetings
