Trust Chair Election

Tobias Gondrom Elected Chair

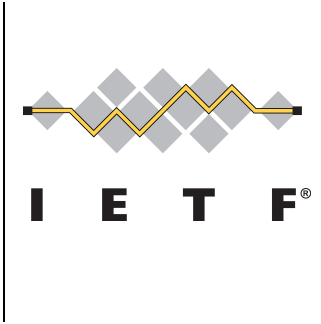

The Trust thanks Benson for accepting responsibility for chairing the Trust during an exceptionally busy period and on very short notice when Tobias Gondrom became IAOC Chair.

Lawsuit filed against IETF among others

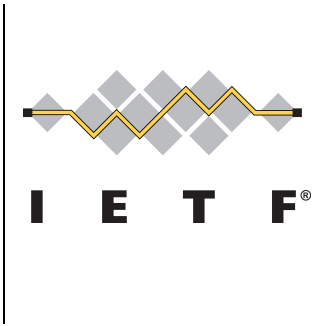

- Glassey v. Microsemi Inc - ISOC, IETF, ICANN, et al (received 2014-Sep)
 - On 03-Mar-2016 the US 9th District Court of Appeals affirmed all decisions by District Court including dismissing Glassey's action, and motions.
 - See: <https://iaoc.ietf.org/documents/Glassey-Judgment-3March2016.pdf>
 - Much more information, including all detailed filings, is available at <http://iaoc.ietf.org/subpoenas.html>

Trust Willingness to hold IPR Related to IANA

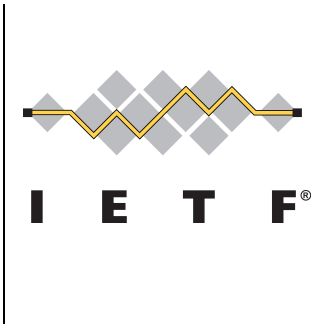

- As previously reported, the IETF Trust is willing to hold intellectual property rights relating to the IANA function, including IANA trademarks and the IANA.ORG domain name (and other related names).
- Since the last IETF meeting:
 - The ICANN board voted to accept the plan developed by the ICG (including input from the IETF and other stakeholders).
 - This plan is now being reviewed by the NTIA (of the US Dept of Commerce).
 - See <https://www.icann.org/news/announcement-2016-03-10-en>
- The IETF Trust and counsel have been collaborating with the IANA communities in preparation to support the IANA community's IPR needs.
- For further discussion on this topic please see the IANAPLAN WG
 - <https://datatracker.ietf.org/wg/ianaplan/charter/>

Trust Finances

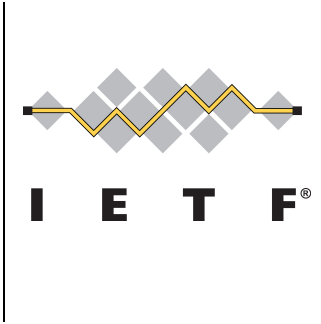

- The IETF Trust is in process of filing for tax-exempt status as a §501(c)(3) organization under US Internal Revenue Service (IRS) regulations.
 - The trust currently and historically has no revenue and has thus not pursued tax-exempt status.
 - The official filing is pending adoption of a formal Conflict of Interest (COI) policy. (see next slide)
- After §501(c)(3) status is acquired, the IETF Trust will be opening a Trust-owned bank account, funded adequately from meeting registration revenues, to cover the needs of maintaining the Trust.
 - NOTE: Meeting Registration Revenues received in excess of meeting expenses are and have been used to fund other operating costs, such as the Secretariat, RFC Editor, IASA, and the IETF Trust.

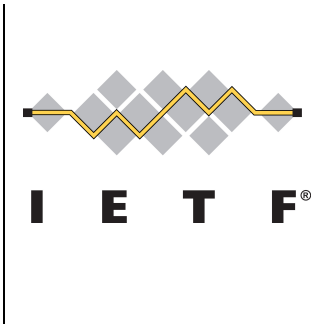

Conflict of Interest Policy

- The IETF Trust is planning to adopt an official Conflict of Interest (COI) policy.
 - This is necessary for tax-exempt status.
- It is currently under review by the IETF community until 13 April 2016.
 - See <http://trustee.ietf.org/documents/TheIETFTrustcommunityinputConflictofInterest.pdf>
- The proposed Conflicts of Interest Policy is located here:
 - <http://trustee.ietf.org/documents/IETF-Trust-Conflict-Policy-18March2016.htm>
- The Trustees have been collecting comments and revising, as appropriate.

Copyright Statements in Contributions to the IETF

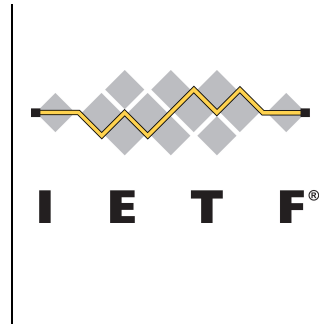

- IETF IPR is managed consistent with BCP 78 and 79.
 - Contributors grant the IETF a license to publish contributions, e.g. as part of an IETF document or meeting proceedings.
 - IETF publications are copyrighted by the IETF and the resulting IPR is held by the IETF Trust.
- Contributors are not permitted to include additional copyright assertions in contributions.
 - This includes documents (drafts and RFCs) as well as presentation slides, etc.

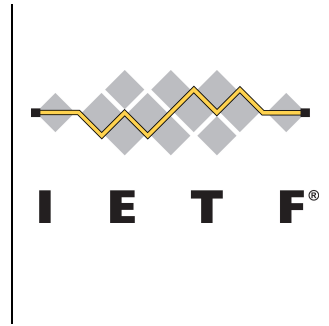

Hackathon IPR

- As previously reported, the IETF does not consider code developed at the Hackathon to inherently be a contribution to the IETF.
 - It may be intentionally contributed, but is not automatically assumed be.
- However presentations at IETF meetings, including those given at an IETF Hackathon, are contributions to the IETF.
 - Thus the usual IETF policies apply to these Contributions, including copyright license and IPR disclosure rules.
 - This may include slides that are included in the official proceedings, video of demonstrations, etc.
- Contributors are responsible for ensuring that they have the right to make contributions!
